WIFE FEARS FOR HER LIFE

Sues Alexander Stein, Rich Sportsman, for Divorce.

Greenwich, Conn., February 19.—Alexander Stein, a rich sportsman, son of a former New York brewer, former member of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club and of the Seventh Regiment, of New York, has been made the defendant in a suit for divorce brought in the Fairfield county Supreme Court by his wife, Emma E. Stein, who was Miss Emma Elise Brubacher, and married him on October 28, 1894.

Deputy Sneriff Hendrie, of Stamford, attached Mr. Stein's property to the amount of $200,000, and filed the complaint at the town cierk's office. In it Mrs. Stein says that her husband has been for a year, and alimony. The document says the defendant owns real estate valued at $10,000 and personal property amounting to $460,000.

While habitual intemperance is the charge upon which the application for divorce is based, it is believed that Mrs. Stein's fear for her life is the real basis of the suit, owing to her husband's set fire suit, owing to her husband's of the suit, owing to her husband's of the suit, owing to her husband's set fire he suit, owing to her husband's of the suit, owing to her husband's J. for the defense, was postponed until the next term. Stein's fear for her life is the real basis of the sult, owing to her husband's mania for carrying and shooting firearms at every opportunity.

Mr. Stein has a home at Byram Shore, in Greenwich, near the homes of Joseph Milbank, Henry Mallory, Charles Mallory and other well-known New Yorkers. His wife has lived with her sister, Mrs. Doll, since last November. Fishermen have complained frequently to the police that they were unable to ply their trade off Byram Shore by reason of whizzing bullets. Mr. Stein's own friends became timid and kept away from his place. He petitioned the Greenwich selectmen to provide a watchman for his neighbors, but said he was able to watch over his own property.

FINDS 4 BEARS, KILLS ALL

Mother and Three Yearlings Dispatched With Four Shots and a Club.
Cumberland, Md., February 19.—John McFall, who lives on Turkey Creek, went into the woods to look after some stock, and took his rifle and two dogs. The dogs discovered an old bear, with three yearling cubs, in a hollow log, and routed them. The mother bear, a monster, came out first, flercely attacking the dogs. McFall killed her with two bullets. Two cubs following were dispatched with a shot each. McFall now was without ammunition. The dogs attacked the remaining cub, and an ugly fight was on, when McFall seized a club and dispatched the animal.

Wisconsin Compromises Its Claim for Inheritance Tax.

Madison Wis., February 19.—John Mann, representing the Kennedy estate of New York City, signed papers binding the estate to pay to the State of Wisconsin $355,000 as an inheritance tax on Northern Pacific stock valued at $23,000,000. While this does not represent the amount claimed by the State, it was considered policy to accept the compromise, as there were doubts as to whether the State could collect the full amount. The case had been in the courts for over two years.
